ABOUT ME

I am a full stack developer with expertise in React, JavaScript, and Tailwind, and familiarity with frameworks like Laravel and ASP.NET. Additionally, I have knowledge of Python, Java, and C#. Proficient in GitHub for version control and collaboration, I also use Figma to design websites. I am passionate about learning new languages and frameworks, and I thrive in team environments where I can grow and develop alongside others. With a strong commitment to reliability and efficiency, I am dedicated to continuously improving my skills and contributing effectively to any project.
